STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

The Lewiston Journal says: Friday forenoon a gentleman from Bath happened to see on Lisbon street in this city, a young man whom he recognized as one Arthur Penney of Waterville. Penney boarded in Bath at the same house with this gentleman, a short time ago, and went off one night, taking another man's overcoat and leaving an unpaid board bill. Officer Hodsdon arrested the young man, and a cell in the lockup induced him to confess the truth of the charges against him. He represented that he had an aunt residing in this city. The lady was found and said that she recently wanted to send some articles to her son, in another part of the State. Penney told her that he was going there and offered to take the articles for her. She put in his hands some new clothing and a sum of money, and young Penney stole the whole consignment. Penney confessed to this crime also. He is about nineteen years old and evidently a precocious swindler. He has been representing himself to be a sewing machine agent in this city, and other unsavory transactions will probably be exposed, before the police are done with him.

Cumberland.

The Portland Argus says: In our account of the accidental death of John A. McGonnagle the statement in regard to the nature of his injuries, though given by the coroner, was not exactly correct. Only one gash was made on his head by the fall and that a small one over the left temple. He has been employed at the Falmouth House for the past eight years and was highly esteemed by his employers and associates.

The Bridgton News says: Our citizens have raised money sufficient for the survey of a route for a railroad from Portland to Bridgton and competent engineers will at once proceed with the survey.

W. Harmon, residing in Portland, has a cat who sleeps every night on the back of one of his horses, between whom and the cat a warm friendship exists.

The Portland Press says: When the steamer arrived from Boston Friday morning Nelson B. Beckworth was arrested and taken to the station on a charge of setting fire to his store in Ferry Village on Thursday last. Constable Dyer says that he found a kit containing a vessel that had been filled with kerosene and covered with straw in the store after the fire had been extinguished. He also states, as do the insurance agents, Messrs. Munger and Coffin, that there was nothing of any especial value found in the store after the flames were extinguished, while Mr. Beckworth had about $1,100 insurance. In an interview with Mr. Beckworth he stated that he he was arrested for setting fire to his store through the influence of insurance agents, that the insurance was effected some time ago, and that at the time of the fire he had about $500 worth of goods in the store; that he has always kept a kerosene lamp burning in the store, and it was so burning when he went to Boston on the boat Wednesday night, that he has no doubt when the fire was discovered people rushed in and helped themselves to the goods, and that he had $800 insurance in one company and $500 in another, and that he had made a sworn statement yesterday to the insurance agents of what he had in the store. As the store adjoined a dwelling which was occupied, the charge against Mr. Beckworth is very serious.

Franklin.

A very pleasant Thanksgiving reunion of the Newcomb family occurred at the residence of Mr. S. J. Jewett in Farmington. The party consisted of Mrs. Jewett's father, mother, brother, sisters, nephews and nieces, children and grand children, making four generations, the oldest 85 and the youngest 3 years. They were from Cape Elizabeth, Cumberland Mills, Auburn, Fairfield and Farmington. Although they missed many faces that were wont to meet with them, yet when they returned to their homes on Saturday they felt they had abundant reason to render thanksgiving to Him who had dealt so kindly with them.

Kennebec.

P. O. Vickery, of Augusta, has increased the working force at his publishing house thirty hands within the past month.

The Railroad Company have a careful eye to the safety of their road. New rails are supplying the places of defective or worn out ones, at the main crossings in Augusta.

Friday forenoon while Wm. Martin of Augusta, was out in the woods near the town farm doing some chopping he suffered a paralytic shock. His loud cries for help were heard by Mr. Turner, the Superintendent, who went to the assistance of the suffering man and removed him to his home in a carriage.

The Augusta Journal says: Mr. Turner, the Superintendent of the poor farm, has been planting a nursery this season so that it will not be necessary for the city in the future to expend money for trees in order to replenish the orchard.

The Augusta Journal says: One of the very pleasant things in this life, is friendship, and from that flows the social qualities of society, or the love to do good to all. And we were reminded of this fact on Tuesday evening last, as the friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fogg gathered at the parsonage at North Augusta filling the rooms, bringing with them a lot of good things to cheer which they forgot to carry away when they left, not only the good things to supply the inner man's wants, but a nice roll of greenbacks.

Washington.

Wm. R. Sawyer of Milbridge, has secured the wharf privilege at Mitchell's Cove, two miles below the village, and will probably build a wharf for accommodation of the steamers this winter. This will be a great convenience, as the boats can land there at any time of tide.

One hundred and fifty head of live poultry, 25 deer and 300 pounds of smelts were shipped from Milbridge, Saturday morning, on the steamer Mt. Desert; owned by parties in adjoining towns.

Mr. Winslow, of Harrington, who was injured some weeks since by his horse taking fright at a rock on the bridge in Milbridge has sued for $2,000. The town will defend.

York.

The Berry Brothers, of Bar Mills, have just completed their season's work of making sugar boxes, having made about twelve thousand this fall. They are now running on full time on pork and lard packing boxes.

Capt. George Thompson of Kennebunk was fined $5 for chastising a French boy. It seems that the boy had been sent to school by Mr. Smith; that some of the scholars "picked upon him," and that after patience had ceased to be a virtue he retaliated on the Captain's boy. This spark kindled such a fire in the breast of the Captain that he at once repaired to the scene of action, whip in hand, and gave the boy a severe whipping.

The barn and corn house of George H. Philbrick, of Wells were destroyed by fire Wednesday night at about midnight. Origin unknown. One yoke of oxen, two cows, one horse, one heifer, fifteen tons of hay, fifty bushels of corn, wagons, sleds, carts, harnesses, etc., were consumed in the fire. Loss $800; insured for $300. This is the second fire in Wells within a week.
